Environment, Agriculture and Forestry Program

Education and Training

- Organized North American Trade Organization ("NATO") Advanced Research Workshop, "The Role of Biodiversity Conservation in the Transition to Rural Sustainability: Using Adaptive Management, Institutional Analysis and Sustainability Appraisal to understand experience from North America and Europe, with special reference to Central and East Europe," held in Krakow, Poland in November
- Advanced understanding of and competence in practitioners of Adaptive Management through an April meeting in the Columbia River Basin and academic course through the University of Wyoming.
- Served on the National Research Council's (a part of the National Academy of Science) "Panel to Review the Critical Ecosystems Studies Initiative Report" (dealing with the $8 billion restoration of the Everglades) and the National Research Council's "Committee on the Science and Management of the Missouri River."
- Held the second annual AgroEcology Summit on the Willow Lake Farm outside of Windom, Minnesota to discuss how conservation programs within the U.S. Farm Bill will impact Minnesota farmers. The Summit, held on September 6, gave over 150 attendees a unique opportunity to learn from the U.S. Department of Agriculture officials about the proposed conservation rules under the 2002 Farm Bill.

Forestry

- Supported the development of landowner groups dedicated to responsibly and sustainably managing their forests throughout the Great Lakes states through newsletters, listserves, webpages and workshops
- Organized three "Sustainable Forestry Collaborative" meetings for individuals and forest groups from throughout the region and around the country.
- Implemented a pilot program to help certify small forests under Forest Stewardship Council ("FSC") standards in the Great Lakes states.
- Trained loggers and foresters in sustainable forestry practices.
- Provided technical and marketing training to individuals, cooperatives, and forestry operations to aid them in understanding markets and needs for certified wood products.
- Provided research input and information to facilitate and complete the FSC Lake States-Central Hardwoods regional standard.

Environment & Agriculture

- Organized a conference in November on "Economic Opportunities in Wind Energy" that had over 500 people in attendance.
- Produced a comprehensive report on the impacts of agriculture on water quantity in the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River Basin.
- Provided research and presented findings to several forums stressing the importance of scheduling and other non-structural navigation opportunities on both the Mississippi River and St. Lawrence Seaway navigation systems.
- Conducted research and outreach on opportunities for Midwest farmers to diversify production and income, including two monthly newsletters, market research and farmer meetings

December 31, 2002

- Created a series of fact sheets that provided a basis for our public education campaign on environmental and farming issues

Food and Agriculture

- Participated in a local coalition to the end of supporting a public event that brought local residents to St Paul for a day of education, entertainment and local foods to promoting public awareness of sustainable economic choices.
- Created and moderated a daily listserv on farm issues with 1,300 global subscribers.
- Conducted focus group research in Iowa, South Dakota and Minnesota to determine the potential for a rural economic development strategy based on renewable energy and local foods
- Staffed a national farm policy fellowship program, funded by the W.K. Kellogg Foundation, that will eventually enable 50 leaders in food and farm organizations to focus more of their attention on outreach to the media. This program is in conjunction with the Jefferson Institute for Agricultural Diversification, based at the University of Missouri.

Food and Health

- Participated in Minnesota Office of Environmental Assistance's "Prevention, Reduction and Recycling Advisory Committee."
- Published two fact sheets on heavy metal contamination in fertilizer products made from hazardous waste.
- Wrote opinion articles and letters to the editor regarding polyvinyl chloride plastic and dioxin contamination of the food supply.
- Held two mercury thermometer exchanges to collect mercury fever thermometers.
- Gave public presentation about industrial pollutants (e.g., dioxin, heavy metals) in the food supply and options for preventing exposure.
- Published editorial in Minnesota Medicine entitled, "Antimicrobial use in Animal Feed: an Ecological and Public Health Problem."
- Participated in multi-meeting stakeholder advisory group to Minnesota Department of Health to recommend precautionary steps to address antimicrobial use in animal feed.
- Purchased and collected 400 retail poultry products from Minnesota and Iowa, tested them for the presence of disease causing bacteria and antibiotic-resistant bacteria and published a December report with the results of testing.
- Presented information on the public health impacts of antibiotic overuse in animal agriculture to dozens of scientific organizations, physicians, medical students, public health groups, consumer groups, farmers and farming groups and others, in Minnesota and nationally.

Children's Health

- Organized and hosted an all-day training workshop, "In Harm's Way: Toxic Threats to Child Development," for over 130 health professionals in Minnesota, along with University of Minnesota Pediatrics Department, American Academy of Pediatrics - MN Chapter, and others. IATP staff was one of three plenary speakers and also moderated two panel discussions and subsequently gave three hour-long grand rounds presentations to Twin Cities Childrens Hospital faculty and staff, and to the MN State Mental Health Advisory Committee

- Organized Having Faith: An Ecologist's Journey to Motherhood at the Westminster Town Hall Forum, featuring biologist and writer Sandra Steingraber. Organized a community meeting following this event to begin working on actions to protect children and start planning a community-wide workshop.
- Played a lead role in the development of a collaborative on children's environmental health, called "Preventing Harm -- Minnesota" to shape a statewide campaign to better protect children from environmental toxins.
- Worked with the Minnesota Environmental Partnership ("MEP") on various children's health issues, including taking the lead on a collaborative mercury reduction initiative to set goals for elimination of new mercury emissions in Minnesota.
- Researched and developed a fish consumption brochure for children and women of childbearing age.
- Gave numerous presentations on children's environmental health to the American Public Health Association, Minnesota Public Health Association, Minnesota Department of Health's Emerging Issues Workgroup, the Childbirth Collective, the Healthy Start Program, youth groups, parents, child care providers, neighborhood groups and University of Minnesota students and faculty, among others.
- Worked with young people from the Horizon Youth Program on mercury in fish and participated with them in the Sabathani Community Festival.

Fish and Marine Conservation

- Promoted awareness of and education on sustainable seafood by creating a web page that includes extensive library entries and links, listserves, and action alerts.
- Published a report on antibiotics and fish farming that was widely distributed as well as posted on our web site.
- Presented information at 40 national, regional and local meetings and media outlets.
- Assisted local citizens and tribal members with the passing of resolutions banning net pen salmon culture in their waters and communities.
- Distributed over 4,000 brochures, fact sheets and articles pertaining to the hazards of factory fish farming.

Trade and Agriculture

- Consolidated the Trade Information Project, which now services hundreds of non-governmental organizations ("NGOs") from around the world, together with government negotiators, officials in national ministries and the academic community with regular analysis of developments in the trade negotiations in progress at the World Trade Organization ("WTO").
- Published a major study on the impact of oligopolies in world agricultural markets and the resulting need to revisit the assumptions that underlie public policy to regulate these markets.
- Played a lead role in preparing comments on behalf of Consumers International, a global federation of NGOs, for the review of the role, mandate and functioning of the Codex Alimentarius, an intergovernmental organization charged with setting global safety standards for food.

Institute for Agriculture and Trade Policy

EIN #36-3501938

December 31, 2002

- Member of the international NGO planning committee that prepared the program and inputs for NGO and social movement participation in the World Food Summit +5 Conference, held in Rome in June. Wrote the first draft of the NGO input on trade and food security
- Invited to prepare one of the input papers to shape the direction of the next Food and Agriculture Organization review of the impact of the WTO Agreement on Agriculture on developing countries
- Participated in a 10-day speaking tour in Australia to discuss U.S. farm issues with agriculture producers, the interested public, media and government officials

Globalism and Global Governance

- Led workshops about the human right to water at the World Summit on Sustainable Development in Johannesburg, South Africa.
- Informed Brazilian jurists about the impacts of NAFTA on the environment at a national conference at the Brazilian Supreme Court of Justice.
- Gathered public comment from around the world on a citizen initiative to protect the planet's gene pool from privatization
- Hosted a major international conference on "Democratizing Global Governance" in Montreal.

Communications

Web-based

- Introduced the Global Cafe, an online radio station featuring interviews and presentations on various educational arenas such as the globalization of agriculture.
- Initiated live Internet audio broadcasting (the first broadcast featured Wes Jackson) allowing listeners to send questions via a real-time Internet chat tool.
- Implemented improvements to our IT infrastructure: a simple-to-use "subscribe" tool that can be added to any web page within seconds so that viewers can easily subscribe to our wide range of listserves, improved firewalls, and vastly expanded our web page presence by designing and creating over 12 new web pages
- IATP's Annual Report was produced in electronic form and is now posted on our web site. It contains information about staff, program, board, financials and funders.
- Created an on-line media center where all press releases and commentaries can be easily viewed. The center also includes a listing of IATP experts and links to IATP's various news bulletins.

Print

- Produced a full-color brochure for the general public that describes IATP's programs and provides contact addresses and web sites for additional information
- Published three issues of IATP News -- an eight-page newsletter describing organizational activities. IATP also published an e-mail version of the newsletter containing additional content six times in 2002
